CRABBE WANTS DECENT BURIAL FOR MINORITY STOCKHOLDER BILL

SENATE.

Thirtieth Day.

Afternoon Session.

The bill relating to guardians and wards passed third reading.

The Emergency Appropriation Bill passed third reading. Senator Ikenberg opposed striking out the executive officer. Even if the president was to be a paid officer, the executive officer should be kept in. On the ayes and noes being called, Senator Ikenberg was the only one voting no, but afterward changed to aye.

Liquor Licenses.

The bill amending the law relative to licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors came up on second reading. It provides that a corporation selling liquor must have a majority of its stock held by citizens of the United States who have resided in the Territory for at least two years.

An amendment recommended by the committee on Miscellaneous Petitions was that a petition signed by a majority in interest of owners of real estate within 300 feet of the place where such license is to be exercised, praying that the license shall issue, addressed to the persons and powers empowered to issue such license before it could be issued.

Senator Dickey moved the amendment pass, seconded by Senator Baldwin. It was a new principle here but not elsewhere. Part of the city of Chicago had such a measure, only it covered a whole block in each instance. A motion in nine cases out of ten decreased the value of adjacent property.

Senator Cecil Brown objected strongly to the amendment, holding it was too broad. One large property owner might hold up a license. If there were a provision to limit the provision to confidence sections it might be allowed to pass.

Senator Baldwin thought consideration should be deferred and on motion it was so ordered, the time set being Friday next.

Senator Crabbe's bill to allow certain grocery stores to sell liquor to their customers went over to the same day.

Grist of Bills.

The Winston railroad franchise bill was deferred until Friday.

The bill to regulate and define the power of witnesses passed third reading.

The bill relating to the concealing of infants passed second reading.

The bill relating to larceny passed second reading.

The bill relating to assault and battery was read a second time and passed.

The bill relating to receiving of stolen goods passed second reading.

The bill relating to the felonious branding of cattle was read a second time. Senator Dickey moved an amendment to make imprisonment obligatory, but withdrew it rather than have the bill sent to conference. The bill passed.

The bill amending the law of embezzlement was read a second time and passed.

The bill repealing P. O. laws relating to the sale of opium passed second reading.

Another Liquor Bill.

A bill to prohibit the selling of liquor to inebriates and minors was considered on second reading with amendments recommended by the committee on Health and Education. Senator Paris, who introduced the bill, offered an amendment to except cases of minors who had the consent and approval of parents or guardians. Senator Dickey seconded this amendment. Senator O'Brien moved the committee's report be adopted as to the same section. The committee's report was adopted as a whole, passing the bill.

The bill to amend the law relating to names was read a first time and referred to the Judiciary Committee. The bill relating to garnishments was similarly referred. Also the bill to publish the United States District Court decisions.

The bill relating to amendments of process, etc., was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The bill relating to frauds in the sale of butter went to the Committee on Miscellaneous Petitions.

The bill relating to judgments on liens was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Raising a Breeze. President Crabbe, on the floor, moved to bring forward the bill relating to minority representation on boards of corporation directors and trustees, but Senator Baldwin raised the point of order that the bill having been postponed to a certain date could not be resuscitated before that time. Senator Ikenberg, in the chair, ruled the point well taken, when the speaker complained. There was scarcely a member who had not been allowed to move bills ahead of their time, and thereafter he would see that none of them was allowed the privilege refused to him.

The chairman told the speaker he had made his ruling and further discussion was out of order. Senator Achi chimed in with the point that no appeal had been taken from the ruling of the chair.

Senator C. Brown had said the bill having been deferred to a given date and the time for reconsideration having passed it could only come up by unanimous consent and he objected. Now, in reply to the president's threat of strict ruling, he rose and banging his fist upon his desk said he would tell what he knew about the matter. After the postponement of the bill the other day, certain persons went down town and, in a business house, threatened that because of his action on the bill every measure that he had introduced would be held up in the House, and following that threat some of his bills were held up.

President Crabbe said he had only desired to advance the bill, though he would vote against it, as he wanted to see it killed in a proper manner.

Senator McCandless began reading from the rules, but was called to order. At 3:25 the Senate took recess until 7:30.

Evening Session.

Rapid progress was again made on the County Bill at last night's session of the Senate. No amendments of a radical nature were made. The clerk and assistant clerk take turns in reading and when a section is read, if there is no remark or motion, it is declared passed. Tonight and tomorrow night at most in the Senate, and then the responsibility for completing the enactment of the measure in good time will devolve on the House.

BOTTLED MESSAGE RETURNS.

This is the story of a glass jar which was thrown overboard in the Hudson River by William H. Macomber.

A party left Greenport for West Point on August 28, 1901, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Macomber. When they had eaten their lunch Mr. Macomber wrote the following on the back of a Pan-American circular:

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Macomber, Greenport, Suffolk county, N. Y. Find me of this jar will please write to Mr. Macomber, Street Commissioner, Greenport, Suffolk county, N. Y.

They placed the circular in the jar and, screwing the cover on, threw it overboard into the Hudson.

Mr. Macomber on February 15 received a letter with an Amsterdam postmark inclosing the Pan-American circular and saying:

Laren, Hilversveen, Holland, Feb. 10, 1902.

An echo from the Pan-American. Picked up in the Zuider Zee a jar containing the inclosed. No doubt you will be surprised at its recovery here. The facts are briefly as follows: The jar was picked up by fishermen and given to me to decipher a few days ago, they thinking of the possibility of some great disaster. Hoping this note may give you pleasure, I am yours,

JOSEPH X. IMHOFF.

A Reserve That Is a Reserve

The RESERVE FUND of the PHOENIX SAVINGS, BUILDING and LOAN ASSOCIATION is an additional cash capital paid in by the management. It is placed upon first mortgage under the California law, the same as your money. It is subject to the State authorities in case of loss, etc. These mortgages, for a ditional safety, are placed with the Mercantile Trust Company, the strongest trust company on the coast, and are non-negotiable. They hold them for the benefit of all, also to comply with the charter and by-laws of this Company, and the laws of the State of California. It is not a Reserve Fund made from the other stockholders. It is paid in in cash by the management; it cannot be withdrawn until all contracts are completed and have been paid to the other stockholders of this Company. This Reserve Fund eliminates every possibility of a loss to you.

Our directors are satisfied that this system of loaning is safe, or they would not put up this Reserve Fund, or any part of it, to guarantee against loss. We annex a complete list of the Directors and Managers and Reserve Fund stockholders of the Phoenix Saving, Building and Loan Association.

A limited amount only of Class A 60c stock—100 payments to pay to produce $100—for sale. $12 per month are the payments on a $2000 certificate. Guaranteed withdrawal values on the above.
